

RESILIENT COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP

SLAUGHTER BEACH • DELAWARE COASTAL PROGRAMS

PUBLIC WORKSHOP AND OPEN HOUSE

Join the Town of Slaughter Beach and the DNREC Delaware Coastal Program office on Friday June 3, 2016 between 5pm—8pm for the first public workshop on the Resilient Community Partnership Project.

All Slaughter Beach residents (year-round and part-time) and stakeholders are invited to the Fire Hall to hear about the project and provide direct input into the process. Please stop by to:

- Provide your thoughts and observations about coastal hazards you have experienced in town, such as flooding
- Listen to an informative presentation about the project
- Speak with subject matter experts
- Results of the Community Values Survey will also be presented

Your input is important and will guide us as we move forward with assessing the community's vulnerability to coastal and climate impacts and prioritizing recommendations to become more resilient! A brief overview presentation is scheduled for 5:20 pm, to be repeated at 6:15 pm. Prior registration not required.

Can't attend in person? Find project and workshop information online at: <http://de.gov/resilientcommunity>
